

The Methodist Conference made many changes in the ministry, so we have received a big shipment of

TRUNKS!

For their use and any one else who has to move. We sold most all the boys and girls who went to school and we had these trunks rushed in, but they are here and at such prices that the ministers will be glad they are going as they can buy one.

Suit cases and bags of all kinds from 50 cents to $12.50.

The "awakening of Helen Richie" is nothing compared to the awakening of the folks around this neck of the woods to the value of a good trunk. The merchandise is so superior to the average selling, and why shouldn't we, when we know our business and are not afraid to work? Are you working for something? We are and it's your trade, but we want it honestly.

Count Nogi, Supreme Military Councillor of the Empire and Wife Killed Themselves

TOKIO, September 13th.—General Count Mareouke Nogi, Supreme Military Councillor of the Empire, and his wife committed suicide tonight in accordance with the ancient Japanese custom as a final tribute to their departed Emperor and friend, Mutankite. The death by their own hand of the General and his wife was as dramatic as it was sad.

The General cut his throat with a short sword and the Countess committed harikari.

JOHN CABLISH,

Former Resident of This City, Passes Away at His Home in Charleston, West Virginia

Daily Bulletin.
Mr. John Cablish, a former resident of this city, and a brother of Mr. Jacob Cablish, the East End grocer, died Thursday night at his home in Charleston, W. Va., of the infirmities of old age, he being in his seventy-third year.

Mr. Cablish was in the bakery and confectionery business here in the early seventies, afterwards moving to Augusta, where he conducted a similar establishment for many years before going to Charleston, where his sons now operate one of the largest ice cream, bakery and confectionery concerns in that city.

Mr. Cablish married Miss Lena Traxel of this city, who died several years ago. Eight children, all of Charleston, survive, as follows: Misses Emma, Marie, Mena; William, Louis, John, Charles and George.

The remains arrived here this morning over the C. & O. and were conveyed to the home of his sister-in-law, Miss Sophia Traxel, in East Second street, from which place the funeral will occur tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, with services by Dr. John Barbour of the first Presbyterian Church. Interment in Maysville Cemetery.

Art Steel Tube Bed

SQUARE TUBING

Price $

Do you see how the square cross-rod at top of head and foot bound this bed? Imagine this design with round tubing in those positions. Would not the result be "ordinary" and monotonous?

It is just such details of clever and artistic designing that have made our steel beds so popular. And the very large corner posts with brass caps all combine to make this an unusually artistic bed.

Moreover this bed is as good as it looks. Because it is made of drawn steel tubing, very light in weight—extremely strong.

A child can move this bed with the greatest ease. Come in and see this bed. Then you will realize how good it is.
